NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Friends and relatives of members of the Sixty-fifth coast artillery due to arrive in the United States about January 30, will not be allowed to greet soldiers on the pier because of the danger of spreading trench and typhus fever germs, according to a statement issued today by Major General Shanks, commander of the port of embarkation at Hoboken.

TEACHERS RESIGN FOR ELEVATOR JOBS

"The effect their plight has had on the school children of Washington is already noticeable. Discipline is still strict. But the morale of the teachers has been broken and has been caught like some contagious disease by the children. 'What is the use?'" they seem to say.

"And as a result the educational foundations of the District are being undermined. The far below living wage magnanimously tendered by the hand of Congress is the cause of all this suffering and misery."

"Conditions in the public schools as a result of the poor wages paid to the school teachers are far worse than the ordinary person imagines," said Mrs. Inkster. "In one class in French in one of the schools eleven different teachers have taught so far this year. And all have left."

Morale Is Shattered.

"The salaries of the school teachers in the District were last raised in 1906—more than twelve years ago. The dollar now is worth about 25 cents compared to the dollar of 1906. Yet the school teacher is supposed to be able to get along just the same. 'One school teacher told me the following incident: Her nephew was in the sub-normal or typical class, which means being mentally deficient. He took a position at $1,200 a year. The teacher had taught ten years and was receiving $1,100 a year. In mortification, she resigned."

"The outpouring of the teachers from the schools has just started. Unless Congress acts to give the District teachers a living wage, conditions will soon become more serious than is now suspected."

Position Vacant Two Years.

"Roy Claffin, who is a prominent member of the Board of Trade, resigned his position as instructor in mechanical drawing in Central High School two years ago. The position has just been filled. This shows one way in which the education of the Washington school child has been retarded. The instructor in mechanical drawing received $1,000 a year.

"In one of the high schools there was a boy who couldn't graduate. He left school. Some time ago the teaching situation became so desperate that the school authorities hired this boy as an instructor. So the boy who couldn't graduate came back to teach others how to graduate."

"Girls who graduated from the normal schools and were sent to the rural schools because of their inability to teach in the Washington schools have practically all been called back to fill positions they were not capable of filling."

Standards Declining.

"This all goes to show how the standards of education in the District schools are declining. All because of the pittance wage paid to the school teachers by Congress."

Sons of North and South Billeted Together As Yanks Invade Germany

By BERT FORD.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN GERMANY, Jan. 23 (by courier to Nancy).—General Plumer, commanding the British army of occupation in Germany, visited Coblenz today and dined with General Dickman, commander of the American troops on German soil.

A guard of honor for General Plumer was selected from the Forty-second American division. The members of the Rainbow division regard it as a curious coincidence that the Fourth Alabama infantry is now billeted next to the Sixty-ninth New York—two regiments that fought each other in the civil war. The younger generation making up these two famous fighting units are now the closest of friends, but there is a lot of good-natured joshing about the Mason and Dixon line.

One Southerner, before going into battle in the Argonne sector, entwined Old Glory with the Confederate flag and then went into action giving the rebel yell.

No Quarter for Fox.

This doughboy had brought the flag from home and gazed upon it with the utmost reverence while the troops were marching into battle. The Southerners fought with a valor worthy of their sire, and the enemy had no quarter from them. The enemy had to fight to the death or else give themselves up.

100 ENEMY PLANES DOWNED BY BISHOP

Although Col. William A. Bishop, "Ace of Aces," who is scheduled to speak at the National Theater Tuesday afternoon in behalf of the Working Boys' Home, is credited officially with having brought down seventy-two German planes, his unofficial record greatly exceeds that number of victories in the air, it was learned today. Friends of the famous Canadian fighter, who wears almost every war decoration and award given by the governments which were at war with Germany, declared his record is more than a hundred Hun machines destroyed.

Colonel Bishop is well known in Washington, where he was stationed in 1917 as a member of the British military mission. At that time he had netted forty-seven victories over the enemy. During his entire air service with the Canadian forces Colonel Bishop accounted for more than two hundred German airmen, figures show.

Colonel Bishop will tell in his illustrated lecture at the National Tuesday of many of his thrilling encounters in the air.

Here are some of the medals and awards which have been given Colonel Bishop: Victoria Cross, two distinguished service medals with bar, the military cross, distinguished flying cross, award of the special medal British air fleet committee, Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre with palm, gold medal of the Aero Club of France, Order of Leopold, Belgium; Croix de Guerre, Belgium, and special war medal of Aero Club of America.

Some remarkable photographs made from the air will be shown at Colonel Bishop's lecture. His lecture here will be one of a series the noted air fighter will make in this country.

CLINIC FOR TONGUE-TIED.

The clinic for persons with defective speech which has been in progress at Georgetown University Hospital will be held every Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the future, according to a statement today by Dr. George M. Kober, dean of the University Medical School. The clinic was interrupted by the influenza epidemic. Miss Jennie Hedrick, of the university nursing staff, is in charge of the clinic.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORN LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of Freezone." This will cost very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man who says that, while Freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

Drawing Rooms Couldn't Minister More Satisfactorily to the comfort and convenience of our women patrons than do our waiting and reception rooms.

It has been our purpose to get away from the austerities of design and coldness of procedure that sometimes make banks forbidding in appearance and suggestive of undue sternness.

Women who are depositors with The Washington Loan & Trust Company find special windows for their convenience in making deposits and withdrawals. And fittingly appointed waiting rooms are at hand for those whose business transactions call for the spending of a little time within our walls.
